- Local IM4Q program affiliated with the State Center will pass on the Considerations to the State Center IM4Q Coordinator.

- State Center IM4Q Coordinator will pass on the considerations to the respective QIDP for responses.
Interdisciplinary Team meetings are held by the QIDP to develop responses to the considerations at each Center.

The Persons Supports Coordinator should be invited to participate in this discussion.
• QIDP returns the considerations with responses to the State Center IM4Q coordinator.

• State Center IM4Q coordinator meets with the Center’s Quality of Life Committee, sometimes called the State Center IM4Q Committee or their local Quality Oversight Group to review all Responses.

• Each Persons Supports Coordinator should be invited to be apart of this review process.

• What does this look like?
• State Center IM4Q Coordinator will then pass on all the responses to the considerations to the Local IM4Q program.

• State Center IM4Q Coordinator will be in contact with or will be contacted by each persons Supports Coordinator to provide responses to the considerations for inputting into HCSIS. How does this get accomplished and how does it flow?
• Each person’s County Supports Coordinator should be in contact with the IM4Q local program to determine if they feel the response to the consideration closes the loop.

• Let's talk about how the communication of responses can flow cohesively between State Center IM4Q coordinator and the person’s county of residences for closing the loop.
